

Delivering a Postnatal Diagnosis

Parents prefer to receive the diagnosis:

- From an obstetrician or pediatrician
- As soon as suspected, in a private setting
- Along with their partner
- With positive words and not unsolicited personal opinion
- Along with accurate information about Down syndrome and associated conditions
- Along with opportunities to reach out to other parents of children with Ds

